BC Home Birth Data Collection: A Six-Month Review

On April 1, 2016, home birth data collection transferred to each health authority under the BC Home Birth Supplies Program.

Since this transition, PSBC has successfully received home birth data collected by designated coding sites.

We thank the coders for their diligence in abstracting high quality data.

With all things new, there are early bumps along the road, but we hope to iron these out. From questions we have received from coders and upon review of the data, PSBC has developed clarifications in this issue to accompany data quality checks to improve the data.

Please see the next page for more information.

Data Quality For Home Birth Records

In early 2017, home birth data quality reports will be forwarded to designated home birth coding sites for corrections. To provide clarity and to facilitate data correction, the following table summarizes specific data fields and common data errors. After saving and validating all your corrections, these records will be automatically submitted in the next period end process.

Data Field	Data Quality Error	Clarification
MOTHER SUITE – MOTHER SCREEN

Data Collection Amendments and Clarifications for the Supplemental PDR

Data Collection Guidelines for Home Births

The following data fields are amendments to the current definitions in the Supplemental Perinatal Data Registry Data Collection Guidelines for Home Births - Mother Suite and Newborn Suite. Lubna to link to pdfs

Amendments and Clarifications for the Supplemental PDR Data Collection Guidelines for Home Births
Data Field	Page	Amendments		Clarification
		From	To
MOTHER SUITE – BIRTH SUMMARY SCREEN
Labour Induced	Page 3	Do not abstract methods such as “herbs” OR “membrane sweep” as methods of induction	Do not abstract methods used for ripening the cervix such as membrane stripping, castor oil, herbs, nipple stimulation, or black cohosh as methods of labour induction.	Abstraction of membrane stripping, castor oil, herbs, nipple stimulation, and black cohosh as inductions is NOT VALID in the PDR. As an option, these methods could be coded to 5AC24^^
Midwife Case	Page 3	Abstract all home births as a “Midwife Case” if a BC College Registered Midwife provided care at any time during the antenatal, labour, delivery, and/or postpartum period.	A BC College Registered Midwife provided care to the mother at any time during the antenatal, intrapartum, and/or postpartum period.	Midwife Case should only be abstracted if the mother was cared for by a midwife at any time during the antenatal, intrapartum, and/or postpartum period. This field cannot be abstracted for deliveries at home that have had no involvement of a Registered Midwife during the pregnancy.
Intended Place of Delivery	Page 3	Abstract where the mother plans to deliver. Review the Antenatal II record for documentation up to and including the date she is to deliver.	For Registered Midwife involved deliveries, abstract where the mother plans to deliver. Review the Antenatal II record for documentation up to and including the actual delivery date.	Intended Place of delivery should only be abstracted if the mother was cared for by a midwife at any time during the antenatal, intrapartum, and/or postpartum period. This field cannot be abstracted for deliveries at home that have had no involvement of a Registered Midwife during the pregnancy.
Actual Place of Delivery	Page 3	Abstract where the mother delivered. If the mother delivers in a “hotel”, abstract to “home”.	For Registered Midwife involved deliveries, abstract where the mother delivered. If the mother delivers in a “hotel”, abstract to “home”.	Actual Place of Delivery should only be abstracted if the mother was cared for by a midwife at any time during the antenatal, intrapartum, and/or postpartum period. This field cannot be abstracted for deliveries at home that have had no involvement of a Registered Midwife during the pregnancy.
